Benchmarking Performance

Understanding your brand's social media performance starts with knowing what's typical in your industry. This report explores comprehensive benchmarks across key metrics and social channels, including TikTok, Instagram and YouTube. These insights help set clear goals, strengthen content strategy and support faster audience growth.

About the Data

For the H1 2025 Social Media Benchmark Reports, Dash Social pulled a sample of global companies across TikTok (n=1,170), Instagram (n=2,978), and YouTube (n=644), analyzing their activity between July 1, 2024 – December 31, 2024, to determine average performance against a predetermined set of KPIs. These benchmarks include organic, boosted, and promoted content but exclude paid ads. They apply to handles with at least 1K followers, covering both customers and non-customers. The results have been published in separate reports broken down into the following industries: beauty, fashion, luxury, media, publishing, CPG, food and beverage, retail, home, travel, wellness, and real estate.

KPIs

Average Monthly Growth Rate

The average number of followers added on a monthly basis.

Why It Matters: It helps brands understand the rate at which the industry is growing and how they measure up.

Average Reach Per Post

The average number of unique accounts that see your post.

Why It Matters: It helps brands understand the number of unique people its message reaches. This is important because it provides insight into brand awareness.

Average Entertainment Score (TikTok and Instagram Reels)

The Entertainment Score is a proprietary Dash Social metric and is scored against a global database of industry benchmarks.

Why It Matters: It helps brands understand how entertained its audience is by a TikTok or Reel.

Average Engagement Rate

The average engagement each post receives. Each platform calculates engagement rate differently.

Why It Matters: It helps brands understand the rate at which the industry is growing and how they measure up.

Average Effectiveness Rate (Instagram and Facebook)

A Dash Social metric that includes video views as a way to understand video performance.

Why It Matters: It helps brands understand how posts were received by those who saw it, rather than the brand's total Followers.

Average Number of Weekly Posts

The average number of posts brands share per week.

Why It Matters: It helps determine the right cadence for posting.

Average Video Views

The average number of views each video receives, this includes rewatches.

Why It Matters: Users watching video more often have a higher likelihood of remembering brand messages or products.

Average Shares Per Post

The average number of times each piece of content is shared.

Why It Matters: Shares indicate that content resonates with users and is deemed 'shareable'.

Average Comments Per Post

The average number of comments that each post receives.

Why It Matters: Comments signify community and suggest that users connect with the video.

Cross-Channel Trends

TikTok Is Still the Most Engaging Platform

When measured using the same calculation, TikTok (4.7%) leads Instagram (4.0%) and YouTube (3.6%) in engagement.

Brands Prioritize TikTok for Short-Form Video, and It Drives Strong Views

With 6 posts a week, averaging 166.5K views, brands are prioritizing short-form video—surpassing Instagram Reels (4 posts, 108.9K views) and YouTube Shorts (3 posts, 45K views).

Shares Continue to Increase on TikTok and Instagram

Shares have doubled on TikTok (142 to 289 avg. per post) and increased on Instagram (363 to 552) over six months, solidifying their role in engagement.

TikTok Trends

Growth Continues Across All Brand Sizes

Brands grow an average of 4.7% per month. Growing brands lead with 9.2% monthly growth, while established (4.4%) and large brands (2.8%) expand at a slower rate.

Brands Are Reaching More People

Compared to six months ago, brands see higher video views (+26%), increased reach (+10%) and more shares (+68%) on average.

More Posts, Higher Engagement – Especially for Large Brands

Large brands post more frequently and see higher engagement rates. Smaller brands post less, which may impact their engagement. Consistent posting could be a key factor in driving interactions.

@jacquemus

Instagram Trends

Brands Post More Static Content Than Reels

Brands favor static posts over Reels on Instagram, averaging five static posts for every four Reels per week.

Follower Growth Stalls, Making Engagement Key

With brands seeing just 0.6% monthly follower growth – unchanged over the past year – engagement and impressions have come into focus as the metrics to optimize.

Engagement Rate by Impressions Shows Platform Activity

Measuring engagement based on impressions (4.0%) rather than followers (0.3%) provides a clearer view of audience activity, highlighting an engaged and active platform.

@elmo

YouTube Trends

YouTube Video Views Have Declined Over the Past Six Months, Driven by Shorts

The average video views per post dropped from 89.5K in the first half of 2024 to 69.4K in second half of 2024. Shorts saw a significant decrease (45K vs. 81K), while On-Demand views remained steady (90.7K vs. 95.6K).

Longform Content Continues To Receive More Views Than Shorts

Longform content drives more views than Shorts, with On-Demand videos averaging 90.7K views compared to 45K for Shorts.

Media Brands Generate the Highest Video Views

Unsurprisingly, the top-ranking brands for video views belong to the media industry, reinforcing YouTube's role as an entertainment platform rather than a hub for brand communities.
